

Can we help?

Murdoch Psychology Clinic

The Murdoch Psychology Clinic provides a low fee service to people in the community, delivered by our postgraduate clinical psychology trainees. Treatment is based on leading edge research on clinical problems with high quality, intensive supervision of postgraduate clinical psychology trainees from experienced clinical psychologist staff in the School of Psychology.

Help is offered for a range of problems experienced by adults including:

- Headache and pain management
- Anxiety, depression and stress-related problems
- Bereavement and grief issues
- Relationship problems

There is no limit on the number of sessions per client, and wait times will be as short as possible.
